Proclamation of Thanksgiving

WHEREAS the [illegible] of the United States has issued a Proclamation [illegible]

[illegible] year [illegible] our Heavenly Father [illegible] averted from us the calamities of foreign [illegible] famine while our granaries are full of the fruits of an abundant season [illegible] nation [illegible] Now I Andrew Johnson President of the United States do hereby recommend to the people thereof, that they do set apart and observe the First Thursday of December as a day of National Thanksgiving to the Creator of the Universe for these deliverances and blessings. And I do further recommend that, on that occasion, the whole people make confession of our national sins against His infinite goodness, and with one heart and one mind implore the Divine guidance in the ways of national virtue and holiness.

AND, WHEREAS the people of Oregon have abundant [illegible] to be thankful to Almighty God for His innumbered blessings,

Therefore I Addison C Gibbs, Governor of Oregon, recommend that all the people of the State observe the 7th day of December next in the manner designated by the President

Tries Evasion and Recantation.

The article we published a few days ago, exposing the aims and plans of the Statesman and its masters in the matter of dissolving the Union party and forming a "new national organization," quite confounds the organ of the "conservative" politicians at Salem. To use the language of the redoubtable McClellan—that infant military prodigy, whom the Statesman's senatorial candidate preferred for the Presidency—the journal which wanted a "new party," is "driven to the wall." Its own words wherewith it presented its reasons for a "conservative party," and showed the successive process of its prospective formation, are too palpable and too emphatic to admit of an absolute denial; so it is compelled to resort to subterfuge and tergiversation in order to conceal its late intentions and make amends, if possible, for its past ill-advised conduct. It complains that we did not quote it fairly, and yet it dares not reproduce the portions of its editorials from which we cited extracts. "The matter fairly stated," is the very honest looking title which heads its column of "personal explanations," but on examination we find in its "fair statement" nothing but an infinite deal of pitiful evasion, with a sort of recantation of a few of the more objectionable portions of its late articles on the "disbandment of the Union party." While it cannot deny that two months ago it favored the establishment of a "new national organization" to be composed of the "conservatives" of all parties, it attempts to set itself right by softening its former language as much as possible, and by quoting from its editorials certain extracts which have no relevancy at all to the matter in question. It carefully avoids republishing the editorial articles from which we drew our extracts last week, but gives in their stead some others of a greatly different character, ashamed, apparently of its own words, and wishing to conceal them. To such pitiful devices is it driven in order to hide its record of infidelity to the Union party.

It is easy to understand the motives which led the Statesman into the scheme of forming a "new party." What it [illegible] to do for Oregon was nothing more nor less than what the "Democracy" [illegible] took to do in New York, Maine, Minnesota and other States. There, the "Democrats" tried a scheme, the object of which was to outflank the Union party, capture the President, dictate the course and policy of the Administration, get the ascendency over the Radicals, restore the Southern States to the Union on a "conservative" basis and build up a new party chiefly out of Copperhead material, which should entirely supplant the present Union [illegible] tration. It was hoped that the late elections in the East would have [illegible] the plan a success. Under the idea that the "Democracy" would win, and the "new national organization" be formed as the result of their triumph, and thinking that the Union party of the country was going to pieces, the Statesman published the articles from which we have quoted evidently for the purpose of trying the public mind and of preparing it for the political changes which were expected to occur. But the "conservative party" was defeated everywhere in the North, and almost before it had begun to breathe, the "new national organization" was crushed under a single blow from the true Union party of the nation.

The Statesman finding the plan did not succeed, is now willing to recant and anxious to show that it does not want to break up and dissolve the Union party. It sees that the "new national organization" which was to be formed around the President by the "conservatives" of the North and the late rebels of the South, is an entire failure. Instead of being permitted to witness the dissolution of the Union party, the Statesman finds that well tried and patriotic organization stronger than ever. Sumner and Wilson and Wade and Banks and Brown and Lane and Sherman and Yates, and the host of the country's firm friends, have not forsaken it, nor been excluded from it. The party has lost none of its distinctive ideas and principles. It has not been enfeebled by the infusion of a "conservative" element into its ranks. It holds to the doctrine that all men, by nature, have equal rights, and that the whole race of mankind should do justice to, and assist each other, instead of inviting and permitting the strong to oppress the weak. It holds that education should be general, that enlightenment should be universal; that the area of civilization should be bounded only by the limits of the world. It believes that justice ought to be equally administered, and is resolved that in our country, at no distant day, "all men shall be fully equal before the law." It is now completely established in its purposes and is invincible in its strength; and those who think to witness its dissolution or to see it supplanted by another party of tamer ideas and of less pronounced principles, mistake its mission and its power.

The Statesman will scarcely see its "new national organization" acquire control of this Government. The present Union party represents the intelligence and patriotism of the nation, and as it is stronger to day that it was two or four years ago, so it will increase in strength and grow in the public heart until the whole work of freedom is accomplished.

THE ORGANIZATION OF CONGRESS.—The unanimity which is manifested among Union members in the prompt organization of Congress is very gratifying. In the days of the "Democratic" party it sometimes required six weeks to choose a Speaker and to prepare for business but that is all changed now, and in this instance (as well as when the last session began) a Speaker was chosen on the first day, on the first ballot. The present Congress begins well. It is composed of many of our best men, and will do its duty to the country. The re-election of Mr. COLFAX to the Speakership is a very high testimonial to his abilities and worth.

THE LEGISLATURE. A dispatch from Salem announces that the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery, was passed yesterday by the Senate with only three opposing votes. We are not told the names of the three Senators who have gained an unenviable fame by voting against this great measure. The Amendment will be brought before the House on Friday, the 8th.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 5.

News from the Arctic.

NEW YORK, Dec 1.—The papers to day print the journal [illegible] containing the testimony obtained from the Esquimaux relative to Captain Crozier and his men. He believes Capt. Crozier and two men are still alive. He has ascertained where Franklin's ships were wrecked and lost.

Finances—The British Minister on the Fenians.

WASHINGTON, Dec 1.—Secretary McCulloch's report will contain a very [illegible] recommendation [illegible] respecting the legal tender clause applying to compound interest notes. He will ask Congress to repeal the legal tender clause of these notes as fast as they mature [illegible]

The Government to-day restored the American Telegraph Company full control of its Southern lines, at the same time it retains the censorship on the press and other matter which has been in force during the war.

It seems to be generally conceded that the Postmastership of the House of Representatives will as usual be given to the West and that the successful candidate will be from Ohio.

A rumor is prevalent that the British Government has instructed Sir Frederick Bruce to remonstrate with our Government against the movement of the Fenians in this country.

The President is said to have opposed a request from Juarez, through the Embassador recently sent to this country for permission to purchase materials from the United States.

Indian Massacre.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Dec 1.—A party of 200 Cheyennes and Apaches attacked the coach on Butterfield's express route on Tuesday last near Downes' Springs, and killed six passengers and the express messenger, and after burning the coach returned to Downes Springs, burned the building and stole or destroyed all the other goods and property. One of the passengers killed three Indians, but was afterwards shot himself. His heart was cut out and his body burned over a slow fire.

Fire in New York—Spain and Chile.

NEW YORK, Dec 1.—A fire this morning on State street, burned three large cotton warehouses together with 7,000 bales of cotton and other merchandise and the buildings which were six stories high are completely ruined. Seven to eight firemen are reported killed by falling walls. The loss is estimated at nearly $2,000,000.

The steamer Atlantic has arrived with $880,000 in treasure.

The Spanish Admiral Pajaja continued to threaten to bombard the Chilean ports without daring to carry the threat into execution. He announces that the blockade is restricted to six principal ports, Para, Ilo, Caldera, Coquimbo, Herraduwa and Talcahuana.

The revolution in Peru has triumphed and peace restored. The overthrown President took refuge in an English man of war and is on his way Panama. Lima was captured on the morning of the 6th of November by the Revolutionary troops. No resistance was offered except by 400 troops in the Palace. The Palace was defended until all were shot. The Palace was fired and narrowly escaped destruction. The Fort of St Catline held out under instructions from the Minister of War who expected aid from the President. The latter, however, marched toward Callao the next day and the fort was captured. The new President Calsec sent a demand for the surrender of Callao and that night, Rivas abandoned the post. The city was soon in the possession of an excited mob who dividing into bands robbed and plundered every principal shop and store in the place. What property could not be taken away was destroyed. Immediate steps were taken by citizens and foreigners for protection. Next morning the President's army appeared outside of town, but before night, he with some officers escaped to an English man of war. The next day the foot [illegible] and order was restored in Callao and Lima was in charge of the Government.

The new Government will doubtless repudiate the treaty with Spain and make common cause with Chile in the overthrow of the Spanish treaty it having been the cause of the revolution.

The Roll of Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Dec 2.—McPherson, Clerk of the House, reports his roll completed. The list of members will exclude the names of representatives elected from all States heretofore in insurrection. About 184 representatives are on the roll.

Harrisson and Pilton, from Alabama, and Tublis and Turner, from North Carolina, are here, with certificates claiming seats.

There appears to be no opposition in the Union ranks to the re-election of Colfax as Speaker, and McPherson as Clerk.

NEW YORK, Dec 2.—Advices from Matamoras to November 16th, says: A war steamer manned by fifty French sailors, had forced the passes between Bagdad and Matamoras, and arrived at the latter place.

NEW YORK, Dec 2.—Mexican advices to the 8th of November, via Havana, says: The French transport Allias had reached Tampico with 400 Austrians, and a detachment of Zouaves en route for Matamoras.

The Empress Carlotta stopped eight days at Vera Cruz, and left for Yucatan on a merchant vessel.

Maximilian still remains in the City of Mexico. Further Imperial successes in the interior are reported by official papers.

Organization of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec 4.—A proposition that the Senate shall act in harmony with the House on the admission of South'n Representatives, is strongly opposed by Senators on the ground that it is an infringement on the rights of Senators.

Last week $27,000 of mutilated currency passed into the treasury.

General Howard reports cases of ejectment of Freedmen from lands, before the order of restoration was issued.

The second Comptroller decides that sailors detailed as soldiers, are not entitled to bounty.

The House galleries are densely crowded.

At noon to day, McPherson Clerk of the House proceeded to call the roll of members. While it was being called, Maynard, of Tennessee, whose name had not been placed on the roll by McPherson, wanted to suggest something, but the Clerk refused to be interrupted. After the call was completed, Maynard rose to speak, but the Clerk ruled him out of order. One hundred and seventy five members answered to their names.

Brooks, of New York, made a speech characterizing the omission of the names of the members from the roll as unprecedented, unjust and totally uncalled for. He said if Maynard was not a loyal man from a loyal State then the President was not a loyal man, but an alien and a stranger. He charged that the adoption of the resolution excluding the Southern members from the House by the Union caucus was designed to be antagonistic to the President's message.

The House took no action on the subject, but under the previous question proceeded to the election of Speaker. Schuyler Colfax and James Brooks were put in nomination. Colfax was elected.

The Senate met at noon and was called to order by Foster President pro tem. Rev Mr Wylie then offered prayer.

Holland, of Vermont, successor to Collamer appeared and was sworn into office.

NEW YORK, Dec 2.—Official advices from St Domingo has been received to Nov 18th.

On the 14th the Constitutional Assembly, according to the general desire of the people, elected by acclamation, citizen General Buenaventura Baez, President of the Republic.

General Grant's Report.

CHICAGO, Dec 5.—The Tribune of this morning contains an abstract of Gen. Grant's report of operations of all the military forces of the United States from the time he assumed command to the close of the war. It opens as follows:

From an early period of the rebellion I became impressed with the idea that active and continuous operation of all the troops that could be brought into the field, regardless of stormy weather were necessary to a speedy termination of the war. The resources of the enemy and his numerical strength were far inferior to ours, but as an offset to this there was a population hostile to Government and long lines of railroad communication to protect to enable us to supply operating armies in the east and west. The enemy acted independently and without concert like balky horses do, never pulling together. There were great advantages to their commanders [illegible] transportation of troops to east to west and reinforcing the army when most [illegible] proved and large numbers during seasons of inactivity on our part were enabled to go home and do the work of producing for their armies. I question whether our numerical strength and resources were not more than balanced by those disadvantages in the enemy's superior position. From the first I was firmly of the conviction that no peace could be had that would be conducive to the happiness of the people North and South until the military power of the rebellion was entirely broken. I therefore, determined to use the greatest number of troops practicable against the armed force of the enemy, preventing him from using the same force at different seasons against first one and then another of our armies for the purpose of refitting and producing necessary supplies for carrying on resistance. I was determined to hammer continually against the armed forces of the enemy and his resources until by mere attrition, if in no other way, there should be nothing left him but an equal submission to the loyal section of our common country, to the Constitution and laws of the land. These views I kept constantly in mind. Orders were issued to carry them out. However, they might have been better [illegible] the construction and execution [illegible] for people who mourn the loss of friends [illegible] have to pay the cost [illegible] All I can say is that what I have done [illegible] conscientiously [illegible] to the best of my ability and [illegible] the best interest of the whole country. [illegible] armies in the spring of 1864 [illegible] fully described [illegible] forces under General Johnston [illegible] says two armies and the places [illegible] the main objective points of the campaign. The instructions to the subordinate commanders for the spring campaign of 1864, are next given. Sherman was instructed to move against Johnston's army break it up, go into the heart of the enemy's country as far as he could, inflicting all possible damage on the resources of the enemy. [illegible] to follow him up to the full extent of his ability while the Lieutenant General himself would prevent the concentration of forces upon him, as it was in the power of the Army of the Potomac to do so. More specific written instructions were not given for the reason that he had talked with Sherman of the plans of the campaign and he was satisfied that he understood them. He would execute them to the fullest extent of his ability. Sherman was instructed that Lee's army would be his objective point, that wherever Lee went he would go also. For this movement two plans presented themselves: one to cross the Rapidan below Lee, moving by his right flank, and the other above moving by his left. The he gives the details, instruction and operations of the Army of the James under Butler and the Army of the Potomac under Meade and says I will here state commanding all armies as I did at the time, try as far as possible to leave Meade in independent command of the Army of the Potomac. My instructions were all through him. General [illegible] by nature. Leaving all the details to him the campaign that followed proved him to be the right man in the right place. He then proceeds in general terms to give the history of the movement on the Potomac and James during the month of May divulging no facts not already known. In regard to General Sigel in the Shenandoah Valley it says he was relieved by Grant's order. Concerning matters it says he had Hunter moved by way of Charlottesville instead of Lexington. As his instructions contemplated how would have been in position and have covered the Shenandoah Valley against such forces as seemed to endanger us. If he had not he would have been within easy distance of the James River canal on the main line of communication between Lynchburg and the force sent up to its defence. I have never taken exception to the operations of Hunter, and I am not now disposed to find fault with him for I have no doubt he acted with the knowledge of what he conceived to be the true spirit of his instruction and interest of service. The promptitude of his movements, his gallantry should entitle him to the commendation of his country. Returning to the Army of the Potomac, across the James after the battle of Cold Harbor and attempted capture of Petersburg the blame being laid on Gen. W. F. Smith, for the Petersburg explosion, that General says that on the morning of July 30th, between 4 and 5 o'clock the mine was sprung blowing up the battery, and most of the regiment advanced. The issuing column formed. Both corps immediately took possession of the crater made by the explosion and the line for some distance right and left of it, and the detached line in front of it, but for some cause failed to advance promptly to the ridge beyond. Had they done this they would have every reason to believe that Petersburg would have fallen. Other troops were being pushed forward, but the time consumed in getting them up enabled the enemy to rally from his confusion which had been complete, and get forces to this point for defence. The captured line thus held, being unavoidable(?) and of no advantage to us, the troops were withdrawn but not without a heavy loss. Thus terminated in a disaster what promised to be the most successful assault of the campaign.

The rebel invasion of Maryland under Early, and advance against Washington and the movement of troops from the army of the Potomac for the defense of the Capital, is then given with fullness, an account of Sheridan's operations in the Shenandoah Valley, and details of his victories, referring to Sherman's army. The report gives a succinct narrative of movements against Atlanta up the capture, eliciting only facts already familiar to the public; accounts of the Atlanta campaign, and winds up thus: "Sherman's movement from Chattanooga and Atlanta was prominent, skillful and brilliant. His flank movements and battles during that memorable campaign, will ever be read with interest unsurpassed by anything in history."

The report of the unsuccessful expedition of Sturgis to Guntown, Miss., and the subsequent expedition of Smith from Memphis, the first of which he pronounces disastrous, and the second as being prosecuted with promptness and effect. Affairs at Fort Gilmore is referred to as an inhuman and murderous massacre. Sherman's march from Atlanta to Savannah is then discussed at length. In reply to a dispatch from Sherman Oct. 11th he says:

Your dispatch of to day has been received. If you think a trip to the coast can be made, holding the line of the Tennessee river firmly, you may make it, destroying all the railroads south of Dalton or Charlotte. Go as you think best. The battles of Franklin and Nashville are next referred to. The Lieut. General says: Before the battle of Nashville I grew very impatient, as it appeared to me unnecessary delay. My impatience was increased on learning that the enemy had sent his cavalry across the Cumberland into Kentucky. I feared Hood would cross his whole army and give us battle. Urging upon Thomas the necessity of immediately assuming the offensive, I started west and superintended matters there in person. After I received Gen. Thomas' dispatch concerning his attack upon the enemy and the result as far as the battle had progressed all apprehension was dispelled. The report next gives the facts on date of March 24th, 1865, to Meade—orders for operations which led to the capture of Richmond which were in substance that Sheridan should move with all his cavalry and one division of infantry against the Southside and Danville Railroad, the whole army following to the left for the double purpose of leaving the enemy out of his defences in front of Petersburg and supporting Sheridan in his attack on the railroad.

General News.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A special dispatch to the Tribune says that the statement of the public debt which was to be issued on the 1st of November [illegible] the amount [illegible] and indebtedness issued during November [illegible]

The [illegible] special [illegible] M. Dow [illegible] with the Attorney [illegible] for the New York [illegible]

The [illegible] says [illegible] will introduce a bill [illegible] for the [illegible] and reduction of [illegible] a bill for the regulating of the [illegible] Departments reducing the clerical force and increasing the salaries of the remaining clerks.

The [illegible] special says that [illegible] ap[illegible] of the opening of Congress and the press [illegible] but few pardons were granted during the week.

The Cabinet meeting [illegible] yesterday was short.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The special of the World says Gen. Grant's views in regard to the strength of the regular army will be communicated to the Military Committee of Congress at the proper time. He favors the reduction of the army to the lowest point compatible with public interest.

Next to the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, that of the Comptroller of the Currency will be the most important. It will state the entire amount of each kind of currency in circulation. The public will be surprised to find that the grand total is much larger than is generally supposed. The report will contain many recommendations that are vital to the financial interests of the country.

[illegible] Barrett, Judge Advocate, has been mustered out of service.

The Herald's special says an order from Gen. Grant has been received dismissing the court martial of which Brig. Gen. DeWitt was President, and which relieves all the veteran reserve officers of which it was composed. The court will probably soon be reformed with a detail of officers from Hancock's corps, when several important cases of fraud in the Quartermaster's Department and officers of considerable rank will be tried.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A Bordeaux correspondent of the 9th [illegible] says of the American squadron in European waters: The Frolic, Admiral Goldsborough's flagship, remained at Bordeaux over a week and attracted great attention from the inhabitants of the town and the people of the surrounding country. The Frolic was to leave for Ferrol and Lisbon. At the latter place she expected to be joined by other vessels of the squadron.

The Tribune's Louisville special says General Palmer has given his personal recognizance to appear trial on the indictments found by the grand jury for assisting slaves to escape. It is rumored that similar indictments have been found against Gen. Fiske, who had given passes to 1,100 negroes to to cross the Ohio river during the last eight months.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—General Wool publishes a letter in the Herald, asserting that General Scott committed an error in his autobiography, in giving an account of the capture of Princeton Hights on October 13 1814, and of the death of General Brock. Gen. Scott gives the credit of the capture of the Hights, principally to detachments of the 6th and 23d Infantry, a company of light artillery and some New York militia, naming the officers by whom they were commanded. He also states that General Brock received a fatal wound at the foot of the Hights.

General Wool says, he, himself, then a captain, led the forlorn hope which made the important capture, and that it consisted of four hundred men of the 13th Infantry and a small detachment of artillery.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—A special to the Herald says Col. Withers, of Mississippi, formerly on Pemberton's Chief of Artillery, reports that his efforts in inducing Boston capitalists to embark in cotton growing and other speculations, are very successful.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—The Commissary Department has in effect adopted the same course in respect to supplies for troops as that adopted some time since by the Quarter Master Department regarding the sales and transportation of ordnance stores. The Inspectors at New Orleans and other points are said to be looking closely into the condition and quantity of the transportation and ordnance stores, and directing repairs in all cases. This taken in connection with Grant's proposed visit to Sheridan, shows a disposition to keep the army of the Southwest in a condition for active service at a moment's notice.

NEW YORK, December 5.—The Tribune's special says that payment in January on coupons will be anticipated, owing to the large accumulation of coin in the Treasury.

Disabled soldiers in the various departments will petition Congress to allow them the same bounties paid to others of their class not in Government employ.

The Tribune's special says that another smuggling dodge has just been detected. A number of coffins have been brought across the Canadian line of late for interment on the American side. Last week the United States revenue officer insisted on seeing the corpse, and opened the coffin landed against the earnest protests of stricken relatives, when instead of a defunct body in the coffin, it was found filled with costly silks.

Two per cent of all fractional currency, received at the Treasury Department is counterfeit. This comes to the Department from bankers and others deemed experts in judging money, and two per cent escaping detection from such parties, gives an idea of this kind of counterfeiting. The Supreme Court met at noon yesterday, all the Judges were present. They proceeded in a body to the White House, and after paying their respects to the President, adjourned till to-day, when they will enter on the business of the Court.

J. C. Durant, Vice President of the Union Pacific Railroad, is now in Washington making arrangements for examination of the acceptance by the Government Commissioners of the first forty miles of the main line west of Omaha. Since the decision of the President approving the amended location of the line, work has progressed very rapidly.

The Times' special says: A motion has been filed in the United States Supreme Court by A. N. Garland, of Arkansas, to be permitted to practice in the Courts without taking the oath prescribed by acts of Congress of July 2d, 1862, and January 24th, 1865. The motion will probably be argued on Wednesday. Immediately after the adjournment of the Supreme Court yesterday, a meeting of the members of the bar was had. They proposed paying proper respect to the memory of the late Judge Catron. Judge Black, formerly Attorney General, presided. Eloquent speeches were made by Caleb Cushing, Montgomery Blair, and others. Appropriate resolutions were adopted, which will be presented in Court to day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Herald's Charleston correspondent reports the arrival of Commodore Lanman, commanding the Atlantic squadron, which is reduced to 10 vessels. It will be further reduced by the sale of two vessels.

The Herald's dispatch says: The Commission for the settlement of the claims between the United States and Columbia, have had submitted to them some seventy cases, a large number of which have been passed upon.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A letter from Montreal says: Canadian Commission to open trade with Brazil, Cuba, &c., has passed out on its mission.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Dec. 2.—The ship Ilber Moore from Liverpool for Baltimore, went ashore about sixty miles north of Cape Fear on Tuesday morning. She is a total loss. The Captain and crew were taken off by the steamer Washington.

CAIRO, Dec. 2.—A fire at Mobile Nov. 28th destroyed forty thousand dollars worth of property. No insurance.

Forty negroes from the plantations near Mobile armed with rifles and sabers, attacked the white men on a neighboring farm. The leader was killed and the others escaped, leaving their weapons behind.

The swamp near Mobile is said to be full of deserters from the army.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Congress Block at Portsmouth, N. H., was destroyed by fire on the morning of Nov. 29th, loss, about 60,000.

A letter from Rio Janeiro says the President of Paraguay had been preparing for war with Brazil for carrying out which course he had bought several steamers and established a foundry for the manufacture of munitions of war. Three years ago he went to Europe and returned with a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition. When this was accomplished he embraced the first favorable opportunity for commencing hostilities. The allied forces in the field number about 60,000 men of which 40,000 are Brazilians, 11,000 Argentines and 5,000 belonging to the Banda Oriental. The Commander in chief Allied Army is General Mitre, President of the Argentine Republic. The Brazilian Army is commanded by Gen. Dasario, the Oriental Army by Flores. The present number of Paraguayans opposed to them is not known. It is thought they cannot hold out long against their opponents. The same letter gives a detailed statement of the disadvantages to which emigrants to Brazil are liable.

North Carolina Ratifies the Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The President has received the following:

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1.—The Legislature ratified with but six dissenting voices the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery. Five judges have been elected. All good selections. Three of my personal appointments have been confirmed.

(Signed) W. W. HOLDEN
Provisional Governor.

Letter From Salem.

SALEM, Ogn, Dec. 5, 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The members of the Legislature are all in, or nearly so, and the forty on the roll of session was regularly inaugurated. As a few of the members are not quite ready for business—the new members, not [illegible] them, had not their certificates exactly in "ship shape"—the House adjourned until two o'clock, when the Governor's Message will be received in due form, and the work for which the body has been convened will begin in good earnest. The officers all hold over, you know, this being only a continuation of the same body that organized a year and more ago. The work however, being special [illegible] of the Legislature, new committees will be appointed. I opine. So that the first work will be "to cut up the Legislature into committees," like the tailor would cut up the cloth to make you a new coat, only "Mr. Speaker" will cut his committees out of old cloth with a pair of second hand shears.

What topics of legislation the Governor may urge on the attention of the body has not yet transpired, as we have not the Message. The Constitutional Amendment question, though, is the question of the session, and that the Legislature will put through at the lightning express train speed. It is impossible for combinations to defeat that glorious measure. Oregon wills the abolition of slavery throughout American jurisdiction. This Jeff Davis and all his adherents cannot stay. The inexorable logic of cannon and powder will carry that out at the bidding of the age. This bill will probably be passed to-morrow, in anticipation of a general Thanksgiving on Thursday. The Legislature will adjourn over on Thursday morning and the members will march in procession as per programme, to the Methodist Church and all go into a general "bender." Whether a liberal supply of "turkey and pumpkin pies" will be furnished for the occasion, has not transpired, but a good deal of thanking, some little praying, a small portion of shouting, and no mean share of swearing with "lots an slivers" of hot toddy, will come off, and no mistake.

There will be a grand effort made by the new conservative party to confine the whole business of the session to the one Constitutional Question. This effort will be made with the design to prevent legislation of a most important character—especially an enrollment law.

It is questionable though, whether a combination can be formed sufficiently strong in the Legislature, to lock up the best interests of the people of the State, except as the interest of capitalists and monopolists, in union with Copperhead politics shall be pleased to unlock. We shall see what we shall see. The Statesman is wondrously ignorant of the formation of a conservative party!

We peeped in a few minutes this morning on Governor Gibbs. It is hard to tell which has the best digestive apparatus, and enjoys the best conscience and flow of spirits, the Governor or "Uncle Sam"—Uncle Sam Mery, we mean.

We peeped in also, on the "Senate and House of Representatives" a little while. They are, or seem to be a common sense body of men—honest, prudent, quiet, hard-working men, who have but one object, and that is, to acquit themselves aright before the people. Loyalty, we think, is stamped on almost every brow; the business of the State is safe in their hands. If they don't all drink too much of brother Wytho's—the new President of the Yale of the west—good wine on Thanksgiving day, we will write more in detail about them hereafter. Yours as ever,

ONE OF THE SMITH'S

MONTANA.—As to the placer and quartz mines it will require but a short space of time to show them up and astonish the world. Their richness has never been excelled. Scarcely a day passes without new discoveries being made. "Only a few days since a poor, ragged Boise miner discovered a quartz lode within three miles town, and last Saturday pounded out with pestal and mortar $4,000. He is now "cock of the walk," and employs an armed force to protect his interests. One can see men parading the streets at almost any time, exhibiting their specimens, or nuggets of gold father, in value from $50 to $4,000. "You bet" this is a great country, and if a fellow can only get his foot in his pile is made.—Cor. Walla Walla Statesman.

We are informed by W. C. Johnson Esq., that he has received a telegram from Washington announcing that a remittance of money, together with instructions from the Government have been sent him in order that he may take testimony for the United States in the matter of the claims of the Hudson's Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural Companies. These instructions are expected to arrive soon. The business will be faithfully and efficiently managed by Mr. Johnson.

The New York Independent says: What most men mean to-day by "the President's plan of reconstruction" is the pardon of every rebel for the crime of rebellion, and the utter refusal to pardon a single black loyalist for the crime of being black.

Documents Accompanying the Governor's Message.

The following reports of the Commissioners to locate the Penitentiary, of the proprietors of the Insane Asylum, of the Secretary of State and of the State Printer, accompany the Governor's Message.

Report of the Penitentiary Commissioners

To his Excellency, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor of the State of Oregon:

SIR: We herewith transmit, through you, our report to the Legislative Assembly of our acts as Commissioners to locate suitable grounds for a Penitentiary and Insane Asylum, &c.

A. C. R. SHAW, } Commissioners.
J. H. MOORES, }

To the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

The undersigned Commissioners to locate suitable grounds for a Penitentiary and Insane Asylum, &c., would respectfully report to your honorable bodies, that they have selected and purchased one hundred and forty-seven acres of land from Morgan L. Savage, the same being situated about one mile and a quarter east of the city of Salem, and on each side of Mill creek; also the right to all the water power created or that may be created by the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Co., by the introduction of the water of the Santiam river into Mill creek, there being a fall of at least sixteen feet within the limits secured by your Commissioners from said Company. When this water power is properly improved there will be much more than necessary for the use of the Penitentiary, the surplus will be so situated that there is scarce a doubt but that quite a revenue for the State may be realized from leasing of the same. There is ground lying along the creek that is so situated that it cannot be conveniently used in connection with the Penitentiary or the Insane Asylum, yet lies within the boundaries of the purchase. The quantity is small, but sufficient for sites whereon the surplus water may be used and much valuable machinery propelled.

Your commissioners felt that they would not have done their duty to the people of the State, who, through your honorable bodies, intrusted them with such an important commission without urging upon you and upon all future Legislative Assemblies, the importance of this surplus water power; there can be no doubt but that quite a fund may be realized, if it is wisely managed by leasing. They would respectfully suggest the setting of all such funds apart for assisting in the maintainance of the Insane Asylum.

For particulars of our doings and the expenses we have incurred, we would respectfully refer you to our report to the Hon. S. E. May, Secretary of State, for the quarter ending May 31st, 1865. It will be found in the appendix hereto annexed marked A.

Believing it important to the proper discharge of our duties that we should have information concerning the prisons of older States, such as could be obtained in no other way but through some person that properly understands the necessities and resources of our State, we conceive ourselves and the State quite fortunate in securing the services of our estimable fellow citizen, Rev. G. H. Atkinson, as Commissioner, who was going East and kindly offered to visit the Eastern State prisons, the remuneration to be his nominal traveling expenses while performing duty as Commissioner. Our letter of instruction to Mr. Atkinson will be found in the appendix, marked B. Already we have obtained through his agency, much important information and many valuable plans and drawings. He is daily expected home, when he will make his final report, if submitted in time, it will be found in the appendix, marked C.

Your Commissioners proposed building the temporary prison last Spring, in accordance with the intentions of the Legislature at the time of the passage of the act, but upon advertising for proposals to construct the same, they were informed that from the failure of some of the counties to pay their quota of taxes, there would not be funds sufficient in the State Treasury to settle the bills at the time they were likely to be audited, and not wishing to make contracts only on a cash basis the matter was postponed until such time as the necessary funds could be obtained.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. R. SHAW.
J. H. MOORES,
Commissioners.

To Hon. S. E. May, Secretary of State of the State of Oregon—SIR: In compliance with the requirements of the law creating Commissioners to locate grounds for a Penitentiary and Insane Asylum, we would respectfully submit the following report for the quarter ending May 31st, 1865.

The undersigned, two of the Commissioners, met at Salem and qualified Jan. 19th, 1865, and proceeded to make examinations of different sites in that vicinity, for the location of grounds for said buildings.

Having been employed only in preliminary examinations and surveys during a part of the months of January and February, we did not think it advisable to make a report at the end of the February quarter.

Early in March, we concluded a contract with Morgan L. Savage, for one hundred and forty-seven acres of land, situated and lying on both sides of Mill creek, about one and a quarter miles east of the city of Salem, at the price of forty-five dollars per acre; and of said Savage and the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Company, for the right of the water power of Mill Creek, and of all water power created by said Company by the turning of the water of the Santiam river into said Mill creek, where the same runs through the lands of said Savage and Frederick Yank, for the sum of two thousand dollars.

A. C. R. SHAW,
J. H. MOORES,
Commissioners.

SALEM, OREGON, April 7, 1865.

REV. G. H. ATKINSON—Dear Sir—Your note of the 29th ult., written upon the suggestion of Mr. Shaw, in regard to your visiting penitentiaries at the east, we have had under consideration, and heartily approve of the measure therein proposed, and shall avail ourselves of the opportunity so happily offered by your visit to the Eastern States, to procure what we have no doubt will be of great value to us as Commissioners, situated, as we are, far from all our older States. A personal examination, by the Commissioners, of such institutions as might be considered models, would be impossible. We are therefore pleased that the mission can be entrusted to one in whose judgment we have great confidence.

Mr. Shaw informs us that, at an expense of about two hundred dollars ($200) you propose to visit several of the western penitentiaries such as we suppose are constructed and managed on the most approved system. We have accordingly drawn on the State Treasurer for that sum, which (less the charge for exchange) we send you enclosed.

The penitentiaries of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, and perhaps Wisconsin, being of more recent construction than those of most of the Eastern States, have no doubt been built so as to embody such advantages and improvements and displace such errors and mistakes as have from time to time become apparent in the older institutions of the country. You will, therefore, visit those mentioned (unless you can satisfy yourself that it is unnecessary to see all of them) and report to us the result of your observations in regard to the grounds, enclosures and buildings, including offices, workshops, cells, material and manner of construction, &c.

These are the points on which we at present are most desirous of information, but we need none the less information in regard to the management of the convicts, the course of treatment to which they are subjected, the business, trades or occupations, &c., in which they are employed. All these questions it might be necessary for us to consider in arranging our plan for improvements on the grounds.

It may be best to say, for your information, that the grounds purchased for the purpose contain an excellent and never failing water power.

It may be thought best to have our prison so constructed that we may from time to time make additions to it as the necessities of the State may require. For instance, we may wish for the present to complete one large enough to confine from 75 to 100 convicts, and then in the course of time should it be filled, that additional room could be added without marring the design of the structure, as a whole.

It is not expected that you will confine yourself to an examination of the prisons mentioned above, or that you will visit all of them unless you should think best to do so, but that you will make an examination of such others as may fall in your way or from which you might derive useful information.

In the course of your examinations it may be necessary for you to procure the services of architects for the purpose of drafting plans or performing other work which you might think of interest to us, and when such necessary expense would thereby be incurred, we should expect it so paid.

This is a commission the details of which in a great measure we shall leave to your good sense, and of course it will not be expected that expenses necessarily incurred by you for travel or employment [illegible] will be met by you without remuneration. Do us the favor to correspond with us from time to time. Send us documents, reports, &c., bearing on the question, such as you think may be useful.

Hoping your trip to the East may be a pleasant one and your mission successful, and that we may be able to construct such an institution as may be of value to the State.

We are, very respectfully yours,

HON. A. C. R. SHAW, J. H. MOORES, Commissioners of Penitentiary: Gentlemen—Arriving home only a few hours since, your report being already in press, I have not time to prepare a complete report of the commission, which was entrusted to me on behalf of our State. Such a report can be made only on a careful examination of the various documents and plans, forwarded to you during the past summer and a collection of the facts which they embody.

I herewith enclose a brief account of my visits to the different prisons and the general conclusions to which I have arrived. The details must be omitted for the most part, and several grave questions upon the whole subject of the construction and management of prisons, which present themselves to the visitor and magnify with every inspection, must also be left for the present in abeyance.

My first visit was to the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown. Hon. Gideon Haynes, the warden, received me courteously and conducted me through all the departments of the prison explaining both the principles of the discipline and their operation, and especially calling my attention to the structure of the walls, prison cells, guard room, kitchen, hospital, work shops, watch tower, gates, and many of the details, besides the observation of the prisoners themselves. Mr. Haynes also gave many important facts concerning the reformatory power of what may be styled the industrial department of this Penitentiary, as it may properly be called. I was also introduced by him to Mr. Bryant, the architect of the improved part of the structure, who, with Rev. Louis Dwight, Secretary of the Prison Aid Society, had made the subject a study for years, and who had endeavored to combine most humane and reformatory principles with a most perfect retention and control of the criminal during his term of sentence. The prison as it now stands, and as it is now conducted, is a good illustration not only of the success of their effort, but also of the humane and liberal legislation of the State.

With the knowledge acquired by successive visits to Charlestown, I visited the New Hampshire Prison, at Concord, the latest built New York prison, at Dannemora, Clinton county, and also the prison at Auburn, the Ohio prison at Columbus, the Illinois prison, now nearly completed, at Joliet, the Iowa prison at Fort Madison, the Indiana prison, in process of construction at Michigan City, the Michigan prison at Jackson, the Boston City Jail, and new jail at Auburn, Maine. It was my purpose to visit the prisons of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, and Allegheny City, and also the Maryland prison, at Baltimore, but my opportunities of inquiry respecting these, and others not visited, with the limited time at command, led me to omit these more extended visits, although I deemed it desirable especially to see the prisons of Pennsylvania, since they are both constructed and conducted on what is termed the "solitary principle," or plan of solitary confinement. I have also recently visited the California prison, at San Quentin, and the San Francisco county jail, both of which have some features of interest.

In all the places above named, I received very courteous treatment from the wardens, keepers, physicians, chaplains, clerks and guards; and all facts, statistics, and annual reports, which they had at ready command. These were forwarded to you at once, with my observations and suggestions, as they occurred at the moment on the spot.

I received several important outline plans from architects themselves, also bids for working plans, at much lower rates than they were receiving for public buildings in their own States.

I should here ascribe my courteous reception, as I think justly, to your very cordial and full letter of commission, and the letter of introduction from Gov. Gibbs, representing the interests of Oregon in the matter, for both of which I have felt especially grateful.

My observations and study of the subject thus far have led me to the following general conclusions:

First—That the structure and discipline of prisons have received more attention and have been carried to far greater perfection in some of the older States, for example Massachusetts, than in the new States of the West, and that our best plans and most accurate and thorough information must still come from there. I found this to be the impression of prison officers at the West.

Second—It is evident that much remains to be done, both in reconstructing old prisons and in new ones—and also in securing a consistent, safe and humane care of prisoners. Prison Aid Societies, in several States, are investigating the subject—especially one in New York—and by various publications, facts and arguments, they are enlightening the public mind and preparing the way for wiser legislation, as well as a better application of existing laws. The results are seen in better jails and prisons safer, more cleanly, more comfortable, more healthful, with a more kindly treatment of the inmates. The results are seen also in greater and successful efforts to protect unjust imprisonment by the courts, a more careful discrimination of crimes, and with a juster award of penalties, and more strenuous exertion to reform criminals, and restore men from the dominion of their passions and vices, to habits of industry, self control and self respect, and thus again to good citizenship.

Third—It is further evident, that the system of contracting the labor of the prisoners, although almost universal, and almost necessary to their economical management, and to their habits of labor, yet seriously interferes with their best discipline. The contractor is often found better acquainted with the prison and its inmates, than the officers themselves. He is a daily visitor for the five or ten years of his contract, while the warden and other officers change with every political change in the State. The contractor's interest being pecuniary often clash with the higher welfare of the prisoners.

Massachusetts forms almost a single exception to this rule of changes. Mr. Haynes has been seventeen years the warden at Charlestown; the Chaplain has been in office fourteen years, the Clerk has been eleven years at his desk. Officials remain there during good behavior, and thus they become well qualified for their duties, and the best results follow to the State and to the unfortunate men under their control and care. It is found to be a great evil to remove men from these stations for partisan purposes. It is a costly, disparaging and altogether injurious practice.

Fourth—The observer soon finds that the structure of a prison, its walls, buildings, cells, rooms, yards, workshops and motive power, must correspond with the discipline which is proposed to be carried out; that a unity of purpose must characterize the building material, its enclosure and ground; and that the latter also must precede and [illegible]. The question must therefore be clearly stated. For what is a prison made? Is it simply to confine criminals and prevent their escape? Is it to secure the largest possible revenue from their labor? Or, is it to restrain their liberty, exact their subjection to wholesome rules, teach them habits of industry and self restraint, and compel them to feel the ever present majesty of law and the ever present influence of mercy, and thus either to redeem them from their state of outlawry, or impress them, if incorrigible, with the fact that they only are their own enemies? If our object is simply to confine criminals, a prison need only be a small pile of stone walls with iron gratings—a mere cage. If the object is to profit most by their labor and skill, a prison becomes a grand system of workshops, with inmates as [illegible]. But if our aim is security and discipline in the fullest and best sense, the prison ought to have the strength of stone and iron, constructed according to the highest principles of architecture, with outer walls of such height and strength that the few visible guards will be necessary, enclosing an ample area of grounds for all workshops, materials and general wants of the large company, who may be expected from time to time to occupy them.

Fifth—According to the best judgment to which I had access, the prison at Charlestown, Massachusetts, approaches nearest such a model in its structure and management.

Its grounds are, however, very limited, much to the regret of the officers and all humane persons.

I submit herewith plans and front views drawn for the State of Maine, and of the prison at Baltimore, Md., similar in design yet on a larger scale. There will be needed a central building, or rotunda, with one wing for prison cells and for officers, with workshops in the yard as needed; one or more, should this plan be accepted, wings [illegible] added, as required.

With these suggestions, necessarily brief and only a summary, I submit the report, hoping that you will find it of some value in carrying out the wishes of the State. Yours respectfully,

G. H. ATKINSON.

RECAPITULATION.

Total number of patients treated from Sept. 1st, 1864, to Dec. 1st, 1865	105
Total number cured as above	24
Number of patients in Asylum to date	67

During the past summer we have materially increased our means of cure by many costly additions, having erected a new wing to the north 80 by 40 feet, two stories high, containing thirty-six rooms, a third story to the main building containing ten rooms, a new house to the east 20 by 60 feet, new dining room, etc., etc. For the purpose of improving our water a new tower was erected 24 by 24 feet at the base and fifty-five feet high, in which is placed a tank containing 12,000 gallons of water; we have removed all the lead pipe and introduced in its stead galvanized iron, (the thing more healthy.) There is now in every ward hot water, and patent water closets. These improvements were attended with an expense since the last session of the Legislature of over $12,000. As a result of this, we have the gratifying exhibit of the remarkable increase of the number discharged cured since last September, 1864.

In consequence of an unfortunate difficulty between Dr. Tilden, the physician to the California Insane Asylum and its board of trustees, we were enabled to procure his best attendants, and though it increased our expenses for wages over 40 per cent, we embraced the opportunity and have now a corps of attendants of experience, whose superior cannot be found in any other establishment of the kind in the United States.

The Senior is now on a visit to the Atlantic States, and while there will examine the many Asylums of distinguished repute, and obtain all the increased information and improvements for the benefit of the patients under our care.

With the kindest regards for your attention to ourselves and our patients,

We are respectfully yours,
HAWTHORNE & LORYEA.

Report of the State Printer.

PORTLAND, OREGON, }
December 4, 1865. }

To His Excellency, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor of Oregon:

SIR: The unlooked for delay in printing the Compilation of Laws, may render it desirable that some explanation be made.

The law authorizing the printing, contemplated its being done in the State, and to do so large a work it was necessary to purchase a press and type, expressly for that purpose, as no press doing newspaper work was fit to be used. For this purpose, as soon as possible after the adjournment of the Legislature, I sent Mr. A. G. Walling to San Francisco. He found no press suitable for the work for sale there, but was assured that one on the way was due in sixty days. Under this assurance, the press was purchased to arrive. Of paper there was not of one quality a sufficient quantity to do the work. All of one quality then in the market was purchased, and it was understood with Brooks & Co., the dealers, that more would be brought to that city by steamer, and that I could be supplied as needed. The press did not reach here until April last, at which time the work was commenced. As the work progressed, continued inquiries was made of Brooks & Co., as to the arrival of more paper of the same quality, and on the 20th of May, they wrote that it was being shipped round Cape Horn instead of by steamer, as agreed, and that the vessel was then fully due. The vessel arrived on the 4th of June. At this time I asked the Secretary of State to purchase the paper for the State, which was agreed to on the 9th of June, and sufficient paper was ordered to be purchased by the State Treasurer, then in San Francisco, to complete the work. In the meantime, Messrs. Brooks & Co., sold out and closed their business, reserving only a part of the paper. This was bought by the State Treasurer. Before selling out, the old firm had not ordered a further supply and the new firm sold all the paper on hand at higher rates than were to be paid by me. The Treasurer sent samples of California made paper, upon which it was suggested that the work might be finished; but on his return it was not thought best to use it, and the Secretary instructed me on the 24th of July to order through Ladd & Tilton enough paper to finish the work. This was done immediately and the telegram went forward on the 24th.

As there would probably be some delay in the work, it was deemed advisable to publish the criminal code and justices' code in a separate pamphlet for the accommodation of the public, they being the only laws passed at the last session which were not published in the official paper, and therefore not accessible to the general public. I permitted Mr. Walling to print two hundred copies. Three signatures had been run off and the copies were printed on common paper. These pamphlets were to be sold at a price not above the cost of publication. Upon an objection being made to their issue by the Secretary they were withdrawn until after a correspondence between him and yourself in which he partially withdrew his objection. Of this pamphlet not over thirty were sold and as many given away. The balance are in my possession.

On the 27th of July, the day on which the order went east for paper, the telegraph was destroyed by the Indians beyond Salt Lake and was not repaired until the 24th of August. In the meantime, I made inquiry at the telegraph office and was informed that when the line was down, duplicates of messages were usually sent by any express going through. On the 2d of September I learned that the telegram had just reached New York, and received an answer asking further instructions, which were sent on the 4th. On September 19th, the New York house of Ladd & Tilton informed their house here that there was no paper of the kind sent for in that market; but that orders had been dispatched to the mills to make it at once. Information has since been received that the paper is now in San Francisco and will be here by the coming steamer.

Eight hundred and eight pages of the Code have been printed, a bound sample of which has been placed in the hands of the Secretary of State for public inspection. I am Sir,

Yours respectfully,
HENRY L. PITTOCK,
State Printer.

The Walla Walla Annexation Scheme.

We take the following from the Portland correspondence of the San Francisco Bulletin. We publish it in order to lay before our readers a view of the "annexation question" different from that entertained by those who want to attach to their commonwealth all the territory which lies contiguous to it:

The Wallawalleans have held a meeting, called and engineered by the members of the bar, in which they censure Judge Wyche for his absence from the Territory and neglect to hold their Court. But particularly they ask to be incorporated into the State of Oregon. When Oregon formed her Constitution she proposed to make the Columbia and Snake rivers her boundary from the mouth of the former to the mouth of the Owyhee, and thence due south to the 42d parallel of north latitude. But Congress in its wisdom saw fit to change the proposed boundary, so that it leaves the Columbia river at the intersection of the 46th parallel of north latitude, near old Walla Walla, now called Wallula, and runs along such parallel until it intersects Snake river, and then up said river to the mouth of the Owyhee. This change cut off a piece of country containing about 2 degrees of longitude and ? of a degree of latitude. It lies on the north side of the 46th parallel of north latitude, and on the south and concave side of the great northern elbow of the Snake river. Modern Walla Walla is in this elbow, and down near the Oregon line.

I suppose Oregon could afford to include them within her boundaries, but I don't think she ought to, and I hope she won't. The true and natural boundary of Oregon on the east is the Cascade mountains. The State line of California might as well cross the Sierra and include the State of Nevada, as for Oregon to take within her territorial limits any of the country east of the Cascade mountains. I don't want to take in Walla Walla because we have too much of that country now. In our Constitutional Convention, the [illegible] of a big State, prevailed. The writer and the member from the Dalles, Mr. Meigs, voted alone for the Cascades as the boundary.

You can't make a State bigger than God made it, however much you may tie incongruous and distinct territories together by mistaken political enactments. Such States are like ill sorted marriages—one half always pulling away from and thwarting the other. The long forced union of East and West Virginia is a prominent example in our own history. The Cascade Mountains is a marked and ever enduring boundary and barrier between Oregon proper and the country east of that range. The climate, soil, productions and pursuits of the two countries are, and ever will be wholly dissimilar, and the intercourse between them, while controlled by a common State government will always partake of the rivalry and ruinous contests for local advantage and power that characterize political factions, based on local disagreement and antagonism.

The true remedy for the good people of Walla Walla is to move for a new territory, to be organized out of that portion of Oregon and Washington Territory that lies east of the Cascade Mountains. Its extent will be about 7 degrees of latitude and 14 degrees of longitude. In the progress of time, as the country becomes developed and populated, this territory can be divided again by a line running east and west. What we should look to ultimately on the Pacific coast, is that we have as great a number of States here as the size and geography of the country will admit of. This will give us influence and power in the Senate and thereby throughout the National Government. Let Oregon join with Walla Walla in this movement, and it can be accomplished to their mutual benefit.

THE STANDARD
AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!
AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.
MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Several distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ in the construction of our tables a variety of machinery especially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:

New York, 2d August, 1861.

"On the eve of leaving the United States I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "Billiard Cue," a journal published in the interest of Billiards and containing details of all novelties, [illegible] of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

M. E. HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.
